

Great is His Faithfulness

He who calls you is faithful;
he will surely do it.

1 THESSALONIANS 5:24

Longing for Community

Sandy was lonely, that much she knew. As a Christian in the public school system, she felt isolated and alone, struggling to live out her faith day after day. Her job was becoming just that: a mundane job. She knew she was made for more, and she wanted to find ways to view her work as ministry. But honestly, she was stuck.

Unfortunately, Sandy is not alone. So many of our friends around the world want to be an ambassador for Christ in their workplace, but they feel discouraged, struggle to balance work and home, and are emotionally drained.

We get it. We've been there too. Almost 40 years ago, Mary Lowman recognized a gap in women's ministry. As a woman who was working in the marketplace, she wondered who was pouring into the Christian working women. From that simple question, the ministry of The Christian Working Woman began, and because of God's faithfulness and your generosity, we have poured into women around the world through our radio program, podcast, Zoom Bible study, retreats, and so much more.

Years ago, Sandy got involved in our Zoom Bible study and later joined our Equipped Influencers cohort. Today, she's found the community her soul craved and no longer feels isolated or alone. Her job is her mission field, and best of all, she's growing in the Lord and impacting others for Christ.

This is the impact of your partnership. Women are developing intimate relationships with Jesus. They are sharing the Gospel with coworkers. Those who once felt insecure now walk with confidence, and those who felt alone like Sandy finally have community to help them on the most challenging days.

In almost 40 years, we have seen the incredible faithfulness of the Lord. He has provided all we've needed, and he's used you as a vessel of his faithfulness. Thank you for your continued partnership. Because of you, women like Sandy will never be the same.

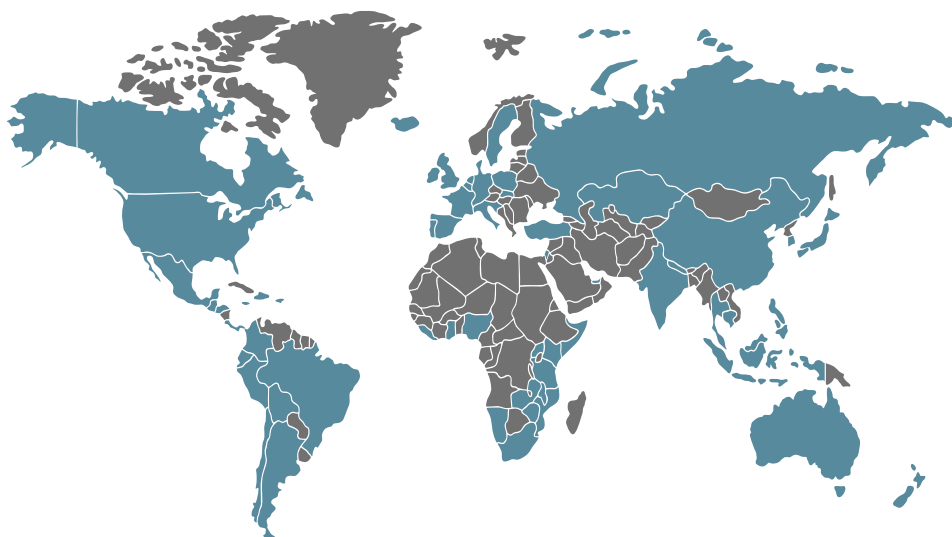

Great is his faithfulness.

His faithfulness. Your Impact.

Vision

We want to see women empowered to impact the workplace with the truth of the Gospel through biblical and reliable content that is relevant to their everyday life.

In 1984, we never could have imagined what God would do through the ministry of The Christian Working Woman. Because of his faithfulness and your partnership, women in 79 countries* have been impacted by one or more ministries of The Christian Working Woman.

Mission Statement

Providing biblical and relevant content to inspire women to spiritually thrive in the workplace.

Forward in Faith

As we look forward in faith to 2024, we are expectant for the ways the Lord will continue to show his goodness. Next year, we are especially excited about two ministry initiatives that pour into emerging generations: Equipped Influencers and Transformational Coaching.

Over a year ago, we launched our two-year mentoring program, Equipped Influencers. Our vision was to impact the lives of Christian women embarking on their careers, help them live out biblical principles in their workplace, and teach them to engage their careers as their mission field. We have already seen incredible fruit from this cohort, and we plan to start a second in the fall of 2024.

In faith, we will launch Transformational Coaching in January 2024. This six-month coaching program is led by three coaches: Lisa Bishop, Vivette Payne, and Lauren Stibgen. These coaches will meet one-on-one with women twice a month, host peer learning gatherings, and provide resources for participants to grow personally, professionally, and spiritually. We believe that women unleash their full potential as they are empowered to lead Christ-honoring lives. Through Transformational Coaching, women will be equipped with just that.

I can't tell you how this ministry has impacted my life in such a powerful and meaningful way. It helped me survive this dark period in my life this past winter season. May our Lord and Savior continue to bless this ministry! - Adrenia Move forward in faith with us.

God has been so faithful over the years, and you have been a vital part of the ministry of The Christian Working Woman. This year, you can help us grow our reach, expand our ministries, and impact lives for the Kingdom. Every gift of any amount is sacred and helps to amplify our ministry to Christian working women around the world.

You can partner with us by:

- Becoming an E3 partner and encourage, equip, and empower Christians in the workplace through a monthly gift.
- Giving a one-time gift.
